

Computerised Payroll for Business - Level 1 Award

This course will equip you with an understanding of basic payroll procedures and also those who wish to become professional payroll processors.

You will develop the skills required to prepare, check, and use source documents from which the payroll is processed, using a computerised payroll system as dictated by Real Time Information requirements. You will also develop skills that will enable you to gather the required information to prepare an employee payroll record using either the HMRC Basic PAYE Tools kit or commercially available payroll software.

The course will also teach you how to calculate the gross pay due to employees from a simple range of information sources and for either weekly or monthly pay periods.

WHAT WILL I STUDY?

Topics covered can include:

- Acting as an introduction to payroll record keeping and processing, giving the candidate the necessary skills to record financial payroll transactions in a manual and computerised environment and in line with Real Time Information requirements
- Giving you the necessary skills to assess your own competence in carrying out a range of basic day-to-day payroll routines and activities using a manual and computerised payroll system. The activities will include the calculation of pay data and processing of that data including contributions to work based pension schemes using basic day-to-day payroll processing skills
- Giving you the necessary skills to assess the implications of maintaining accuracy when performing any practical payroll tasks
- Understanding the importance of security and confidentiality in performing any payroll task
- Knowledge and understanding of the services, advice and guidance that can be offered to businesses by HMRC, NICO and other payroll agencies

WHAT WILL I NEED?

The only requirement for this course is that you have an Entry 3 level of knowledge in both English and Maths. For English, candidates must have achieved Entry 3 in reading and writing.

All applicants must have an initial assessment and interview to confirm that the course is suitable for them.
