Level 2 Certificate in Health and Social Care. 16-18 year old applicants.

This qualification is built on four mandatory units that form the fundamental knowledge and understanding of health and social care principles. Units 1 and 2 appear in all sizes of the qualification. The Certificate also includes a choice of optional specialist units, hereby providing an opportunity to develop a broader understanding of the health and social care sector, including factors that affect individuals' lifestyle choices and their health; and the effective communication skills that can be transferred to other sectors. In addition, it introduces a limited number of specialist areas and the opportunity to acquire some of the practical skills identified by employers as the fundamental building blocks for future competence in the care sector workplace.
